BOOK CLUB NEWS FOR APRIL 2015

Paula Hawkins’s opening pages of The Girl on the Train, which the Book Group is reading for discussion Thursday evening, April 9th, describes an observant woman’s (Rachel’s) observation of an attractive young couple who live near her former home.

She notices something that makes her think the young wife has disappeared, for which Rachel immediately assumes that someone other than the young husband must be responsible.

“One sign of the book’s ingenuity is the way key details are effortlessly omitted...until the denouement, when it is pointed out that certain characters never appeared and supposed facts were never explained,” says New York Times reviewer Janet Maslin.

Any University Club member is welcome to attend Book Group for which participants gather in the Club’s Front Lounge at 6p.m. for cocktails and conversation, followed by dinner and discussion of the book in the VIP Lounge.

Jane Downer will lead discussion of the Hawkins book. John Green’s The Fault in Our Stars will be read for the May 14th meeting, and Dorothy Paul will begin discussion of its contents.
